FROM THE DESK OF THE DIRECTOR OF JOY

There is Only Us

On March 4, 1865, Abraham Lincoln gave his second inaugural address, in which he called the warring factions of our divided nation to remember a higher truth: each and all, on both sides, are brothers and sisters. In his second term, Lincoln hoped that the nation would begin again to live as one large family. The speech reached its rhetorical and moral climax in its final paragraph, beginning with Lincoln's hopeful vision: "With malice toward none, with charity for all...." Historian John Avlon, in Lincoln and the Fight for Peace, says that with these words, the president called the torn nation back together to live in the truth that "there is no enemy in the aftermath of the civil war, there is only us." Those words might also speak to us today: "There is no enemy, there is only us."

Remember those words this October, as in this season the issue of stewardship comes into sharp focus. This month we begin the process of inviting all of our members and friends to support the church with a pledge of financial support for the coming year. Yes, the focus is on money. Our money gives us a sense of worth: what we earn, what we have, and what we've saved -- each of these says something about our values. And, just so, our money also makes a statement about our commitment to the work and the ministries of our church. Our life together as a congregation depends on each of us doing our fair share of financially supporting our work together.

While the church receives a small portion of its income from rents, bequests, and interest, all of these together make up very little of what the church needs to survive. Yes, we received some federal funding during the pandemic, but that was years ago. Here and now, our church's income is our responsibility. There is no outside financial "angel;" there is only us.

In our recent visit to Alaska, Lynne and I saw a demonstration of truly shared responsibility. During our tour, we stopped several times to see how sled dogs are bred and trained to pull sleds across the snow during Alaska's long winter months. They can pull the sled efficiently and only by working cooperatively, depending on each other to pull his or her own fair share. Our church is a larger system similar to a dog sled team: if we are to survive, grow, and thrive as a congregation, we each need to give to the best of our ability.

We have a loving, caring church. Our worship life sustains us. The music inspires us. The sermons challenge us. Our education program for children and youth helps them to grow into faithful and responsible adults. Our witness against violence and intolerance is vital in Savannah. We depend on the church, and the church depends on us. The church's vitality depends on all of its members. God's grace is sufficient for our needs when our generosity matches our hopes and our prayers. In this season, be generous. Our church's gifts to us depends on our gifts to the church. To make the church thrive, we can't expect someone else to pay the bills. There is only us.

A GRIEF SEMINAR
REV. HOLLAND MORGAN
Retired Bereavement Counselor

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 2024
10:00 AM – 12:00 NOON

This two-hour seminar will help to break the silence and destroy the myths about grief.

We will explore what it means to live with grief, to find meaning in the midst of suffering, and offer specific tools for coping.

Our conversation will be considered confidential by all who attend.

COASTAL INTERFAITH GREEN TEAM

October 2024

September was a busy month for the Coastal Interfaith Green Team. On September 13 Asbury Memorial hosted Nicole Lee from Be Smart Home Solutions. Nicole performed an energy audit of the church. The energy audit was arranged by Georgia Interfaith Power and Light and is designed to help congregations lower their carbon footprint by reducing the amount of energy that is consumed on site. This reduction in energy consumption helps to reduce environmental injustices that are caused by improper storage of energy waste and the public health problems that are caused by coal and natural gas plants in Georgia.

On September 21 the Coastal Interfaith Green Team in conjunction with Georgia Interfaith Power and Light hosted the first annual Coastal Green Team Summit. The summit was an opportunity for faith leaders, Green Team members and environmental activists to come together for a day of learning and fellowship.

The summit focused on ways coastal faith communities can foster spiritual and ecological resilience in the face of the climate crisis. Speakers included the Reverend Guillermo Arboleda, Program Manager for New Church Starts for the Evangelical Lutheran Church of America, Cathy Douylliez, the M.K. Pentecost Ecology Fund Coordinator at the Savannah Presbytery, and Reverend Antwon Nixon, lead pastor at the Mt. Carmel Missionary Baptist Church in Folkston, Georgia.

On September 28 members of the Coastal Interfaith Green Team participated in the Keep Savannah Beautiful Fall Community Cleanup.

2ND SUNDAY Seekers

Second Sunday Seekers Group meets on the second Sunday of each month at 6:00p at Parker and J.J. Collins' house.

This group is for anyone who wants a safe space to ask questions, share thoughts, and hear different perspectives about all things spiritual and theological. Let's get together to discuss the sacred mysteries, the frustrating questions, the ethical dilemmas, and moral conundrums.

There is no agenda, no book to read, and no expectations. Just bring an open heart, an open mind, your humility, your curiosity, and your kindness.

Cook and Connect with Creativity

Joy Cottage at Wesley Oak

Join Us for Suppers at the Cottage! Every fourth Sunday, we invite you to a delightful evening at the Joy Cottage where food, friendship, and creativity come together!

As we gather to prepare and enjoy a delicious meal together, you'll have the chance to cook, mingle, and forge new friendships.

But the fun doesn't stop with dinner!

At the end of each meal, we welcome a few brave souls to showcase their talents. Whether you have a poem to recite, a song to sing, or a craft to display, we encourage you to share what you love to do with the group!

Please come join us for an unforgettable evening of good food, even better company, and inspiring creativity. We can't wait to see you there!

Our children's programs are a vital part of our church community, providing a safe and nurturing environment where children can grow in their faith, make friends, and have fun.

Now we need help to grow our programs at BOTH campuses.
Will YOU help?

No prior experience is necessary—just a willingness to serve and a heart for children. Training and support will be provided to all volunteers. Even just one Sunday a quarter would be a HUGE help!

If you feel called to make a difference in the lives of our children, we'd love to have you on board!

Please contact Chris Kincade (ckincade@asburymemorial.org) to learn more & to become a volunteer.

SMART RECOVERY FOR INDIVIDUALS

Do you want to address an addiction problem or harmful habit? With our practical tools based on cognitive and motivational psychology and addiction research, SMART Recovery helps you make and sustain positive changes that lead to a balanced life.

Through our meetings, tools, and strategies, SMART can help you stop harmful habits and behaviors, including addiction to alcohol and other drugs, or negative behaviors related to relationships, sex, spending, gambling, eating and exercise disorders, and self-injury.

SMART Recovery is unique. Our science-based approach emphasizes self-reliance, self-resilience, and self-empowerment. With SMART, you are the expert on your recovery. You choose how to personalize your plan for successful change. There's no requirement to commit to a lifetime of SMART Recovery meetings. You decide when and if the time is right to move on.

SMART and Other Recovery Groups

SMART Recovery believes that people find their own paths to successful recovery. For some, that path may include 12-step programs or other support groups. Although SMART's approach differs from those of other organizations, it does not exclude them. We recognize and support the fact that many individuals benefit from participating in more than one support community.

Get Started

Ready to get started? SMART Recovery hosts online and face-to-face meetings around the world. Our online message board is an excellent forum to learn about SMART and get 24/7 support.
